BACARDI

It's up to you: shaken or stirred
Why is it called "cocktail"?

There are many stories about the origin of the name "Cocktails". One says that it goes back to popular cock fights. The owner of the cock that had won was allowed to pick a tail feather from the inferior animal. The subsequent triumphant drink was named "on the cocktails". These were decorated with tail feathers which later became the name we know today.
